Mission Statement:

Chris Brinker (CB) Film Foundation is a nonprofit charity whose mission is to provide academic scholarships to high school students with aspirations in filmmaking and related arts; CBFF supports candidates who demonstrate talent and possess a financial need.

Chris Brinker graduated from Point Loma High School in 1988 and after attending college became a successful filmmaker. Following his passing in February 2013, Chris' family and friends were inspired to uphold his legacy by creating this foundation with his namesake to provide scholarships to promising students in high school. The CBFF scholarship entails a grant of money to aid students interested in pursuing filmmaking or related arts in college and professionally.
